

YOUTH WORK SEMINARS

EYWC is running a series of free seminars looking at youth work issues aimed at those involved in the delivering and managing of youth work in the city.

YOUTH WORK

A Risky Business ?

This seminar will explore the increasingly risk averse society, the impact on youth work and ways that may be addressed.

Thursday 10th April 2008

10.00am-1.00pm (followed by buffet lunch)

Thomson's Land, Moray House School of Education, Holyrood Road, Edinburgh

In conjunction with Moray House School of Education

JUST ANOTHER GAME

Gambling Education for Young People

This seminar, which will be run twice, will focus on practical materials that can be used in youth work with young people to explore the dangers of gambling. Every participant will receive a copy of two new resource packs produced by TACADE.

Wednesday 30th April 2008

2.30-4.30pm & 5-7pm (with buffet 4.30-5pm)
Meadowbank Stadium, London Rd, Edinburgh

To book places telephone 0131 667 1828
or e-mail eywc@layc.org.uk

In conjunction with TACADE

Youth Work A Risky Business ?

As we increasingly work in a heavily regulated and safety obsessed society, what does this mean for youth work which seeks to work with young people to explore their boundaries? This seminar will be led off by Dr

Stuart Waiton, Lecturer in Sociology and Criminology at The University of Abertay.

Stuart is also Director of the research group Generation Youth Issues, regular contributor to Times Ed in Scotland and author of Scared of the Kids and The Politics of Antisocial Behaviour - Amoral Panics.

The seminar is being run in conjunction with Moray House School of Education.

Just Another Game ? Gambling Education for Young People

With over half of all young people played a fruit machine and a third a money bet, people's use of gambling is increasing. Greater opportunities to gamble will exasperate the issue.

This practical seminar will take you through educational materials that are designed to work on gambling issues with young people directly. Every participant will get a copy of the Just Another Game? (aimed at 13-19 year olds) and You Bet! (aimed at 11-16 year olds) resource packs.

The seminar is being run in conjunction with TACADE.

TO BOOK A PLACE

0131 667 1828 or e-mail eywc@layc.org.uk

EYWC is a forum through which youth work providers and policy makers can support youth work in the city.

For further information check out EYWC via the LAYC website www.layc.org.uk or contact EYWC through LAYC on 0131 667 1828 or by e-mail eywc@layc.org.uk

EYWC's work is currently made possible through funds received by:

